PUNAHOU WINS GAME KAM WHEN HAWKINS RECOVERS FUMBLE

game in the line. Just before the period ended Palama received a forward pass and ran for 35 yards. With but little time Kam kept plugging at the line, but could not cross the chalk marks.

Hussey Gains

At the opening of the third quarter Kaubane shot around left end for 13 yards and Hawkins got eight around the other end. Kam was penalized five yards and Peterson hit right tackle for four yards. Kaubane attempted a place kick, but missed. The ball came back, and Kam gained when Hussey made two pretty runs. Here Dudley Pratt was injured, but went back into the game. C. Bertelmann was injured and was forced to leave the game.

Eaton was playing a great game in the later periods and ran back punts for a good distance in addition to hitting the line. Hussey ran right end for 20 yards, and then Mahikoa caught a forward pass and Punahou collected seven yards. Leal went in at end for Punahou and stopped three runs around that end. At the last minute of the game Dudley Pratt caught a forward pass and ran 15 yards. The game ended with the ball close to the center of the field.

SCHULTE WARNS MAN WHO DEFIED DEATH

Frank Schulte is one of those quiet exponents of the unexpected (on and off) who keep up the interest.

One day the Cubs had a day off in Buffalo and were engaged in looking over Niagara Falls.

The players were on a trolley car on the Canadian side to take the gorge trip. Suddenly a battered, much beaten up, wiry looking individual leaped upon the running board of the car.

"On such and such a day," he said, "I went over the Horseshoe Falls in a barrel. The rock near the center shows where I took the plunge."

A moment later he broke loose again.

"In the rapids below, near the bridge, is where I was taken from the barrel."

Every half mile or so he pointed out some spot where he had risked his life. Schulte had not said a word. Suddenly he slid over to the end of the seat and remarked confidentially:

"Say, old boy, you'd better get in off that running board. You might fall off and get killed."

HE AIN'T KICKIN

(By Walter Trumbull)

"That strike he calls is two feet wide

An' low besides. Of course I kicks.

You know I ain't no guy to ride Them umpires. If they is all hicks.

I only says: 'You great big bum, If a rhinoceros come by

So close to you it bit your thumb You could not see it. Say, if I Had lamps like you, ya bum, you cheese.

I would not cheat no doctor so.

You mutt, a guy as thinks he sees The things that you do ought-er go

An' get repaired, you bum; un-less

Your dome is wrong an' not your sight.

You mutt, the trouble's there, I guess

You thief, why don't ya call 'em right?

That's all I says, kid, on the square;

That's all I says to him, an' then

The crook, I didn't even swear. He puts me out an' fines me ten;

Cans me for nothin'. I don't roar. But, gee! Them umpires make me sore."

GHOSTLY VISITATIONS BLAMED FOR SUICIDE

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

HILO, Oct. 6.—When Maso San-sano, a Porto Rican man, imagined that his wife, who died three years ago, had come back to earth to haunt him, he became very troubled in mind and he declared that the "ghost" would keep after him until he died.

The man used to reside near Niole, where he and his wife were well known.

Maso got into the habit of talking to himself a lot and of wandering around the countryside in a manner that soon earned for him the name of being crazy. He was seen exercising himself near the Kalopa sand gulch last week and a Hawaiian noticed that he was wringing his hands and talking to himself. The Hawaiian walked along the road and did not take any more notice of the Porto Rican until he heard a noise. When returning along the road he looked over the edge of the gulch and, 100 feet below, saw the figure of a man lying on the ground.

The suicide must have dived head first from the high bank for, from the story of the police, his head had first hit a projecting rock. The body then turned over and landed on its back. There was not a bone broken in the body but the head was split straight down through the skull.

HERO OF SANTIAGO BATTLE IS DEAD

(Associated Press by Federal Wireline)

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Oct. 9.—Rear-Admiral Francis A. Cook, U. S. N., retired, who won fame as the commander of Rear-Admiral Schley's flagship, the Brooklyn, during the battle of Santiago de Cuba against the fleet of Admiral Cervera, died at his home here yesterday. He became a rear-admiral in 1900 and was retired in 1903.

Oak is the most suitable wood for carving on account of its durability and toughness, without being too hard. Chestnut, American walnut, mahogany and teak are also desirable, while for fine work Italian walnut, lime, sycamore, apple, pear or plum are generally chosen.

HAVE YOU DYSPEPSIA?

Can't Eat, Can't Sleep, Always in Pain and Suffering

"Eat What You Want," Says This Physician.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, in almost every instance, due to hyperacidity. Too much acid first produces dyspepsia and indigestion; next the stomach walls become irritated and it is only a short time until it eats through the walls, causing ulcers in the abdomen, which in turn are followed by cancer and death; therefore stomach sufferers are required to avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well-fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you try a meal of any food or foods which you may like in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. Drugs only upset the stomach. Bisurated magnesia has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and you will find you sleep well and the usual belching, gas, sour stomach, bloating, indigestion and other conditions entirely removed."
